stand-out celebration. Puketutu Island Estate is full of history, it offers a retreat for you and your guests to escape to. The landscape and design of the estate reflects the creativity of Sir Henry Kelliher who was a patron of the arts, having established the Kelliher Art Awards in 1956. He was a generous donor to many charitable causes, and in recognition of his work as an industrial leader and philanthropist he was knighted in 1963. Kelliher Estate was his residence from the 1950's up until his passing in 1991. The Spanish Mission homestead was restored to its former glory by The Kelliher Charitable trust in 2007 and is now one of Auckland's most desired functions venues.
